Working as a historian

Applying skills and processes to finding, organising, selecting, analysing, critiquing and interpreting primary and secondary sources of evidence

Pursuing a line of enquiry to answer a valid historical question Constructing and Grasp key communicating concepts, new knowledge generalisations and and abstract ideas understanding Achieve progressively more challenging outcomes Generate further questions to investigate